Stories of Student Success
and Institutional Transformation

The story of an institution is the story of the people, places, and communities that serve its students. Conversations about student success often focus solely on graduation rates or other benchmark data that can obscure the true impact that institutions, programs, and people have on the human beings served. ACCJC On The Move is about our journey to understand the distinct missions of the 137 institutions ACCJC serves, and the promising impactful practices changing lives inside and outside the classroom.

This week we are pleased to feature Napa Valley College! Please take a look at the excerpt below, and check out www.accjconthemove.org for the full featured article.

Napa Valley College

Napa Valley College (NVC) is a California public community college serving over 7,000 students in the world-famous Napa Valley. Its beautiful main campus sits on 160 acres overlooking the Napa River and is just minutes from downtown Napa. Courses and program offerings at NVC are broad and pathways include general education; business; visual, design & performing arts; wine and food; human services and health; people, culture and society; and more.

During Dr. Powell's visit to the college, he had the pleasure to tour the main campus and meet with the president's cabinet. It was clear the spirit of teamwork, innovation, and community at the college is celebrated. NVC is excited to share the work they are doing in support of their diverse campus population and culture and to advance efforts to achieve equity, including the expansion of its Academic Senate Center for Equity and Excellence in Teaching and Learning (AS CEETL) and culturally responsive pedagogy (CRP) training project.
