Background: About the ACCJC Annual Report

In accordance with federal regulations and the Commission Policy on Monitoring Institutional Performance, ACCJC applies a set of annual monitoring and evaluation approaches to assess member institutions' strengths, stability, and ongoing alignment with the Standards during the course of the accreditation review cycle. The Annual Report (AR) is one of the tools used for this process. Using institutions' self-reported data, the ACCJC Annual Report collects headcount information to monitor institutional growth (including growth in distance and correspondence education) and institution-set standards for key indicators of student achievement, licensure exam pass rates, and job placement rates.

To assist you as your institution prepares its responses, you can find additional information, data definitions, and a printable version of the 2025 survey questions at <https://accjc.org/wp-content/uploads/Annual-Report-Instructions-and-Questions-1.pdf>.

Technical Notes for the 2025 Annual Report Survey

The 2025 Annual Report collects data for the three-year period that includes 2021-2022, 2022-2023, and 2023-2024.

Additional information and data definitions are provided in the instruction text where relevant.

5. Total unduplicated headcount enrollment for last three years:

For the purposes of this report, unduplicated headcount is defined as the total number of students (credit and non-credit) enrolled at the end of the general enrollment period (also referred to as first census date). The academic year should include leading summer, fall, winter, and spring terms. If your institution calculates the academic year differently for the purposes of monitoring annual enrollment, you may respond using your local calculation and describe your method in Question 20.

Per federal regulations, ACCJC is responsible for monitoring for significant program growth (or decline) that may potentially impact an institution's ability to meet Accreditation Standards. ACCJC does not determine what constitutes a program for colleges. For the purposes of this report, you may define degree-applicable credit programs as appropriate for the context of your institution's unique mission.

7. Do you offer Distance Education?

Distance education is defined as education that uses technology to deliver instruction to students who are separated from the instructor(s) and to support regular and substantive interaction between the students and the instructor, either synchronously or asynchronously. For the purposes of this report, include only those courses that are 100% online in your calculation of unduplicated headcount enrollment for distance education. Do not include hybrid courses or courses in which all the class hours are face to face, but some material is posted online.

7g. % of all students that took at least one degree applicable distance education course:

7h. % of all degree applicable distance education courses offered online:

This is the ratio of degree applicable courses offered via distance education divided by the total number of degree applicable courses offered. This is not a count of sections. A course is counted in the numerator if there were any courses offered via distance education.

8. Do you offer Correspondence Education?

Correspondence education is defined as education in which (1) the institution provides instructional materials (and examinations on these materials), by mail or electronic transmission (including transmission via learning management system) to students who are separated from the instructor; and where (2) interaction between the instructor(s) and the student is limited, is not regular and substantive, and is primarily initiated by the student. Online courses or online portions of courses which primarily involve "paperwork" (e.g., reading textbook and other materials posted by the instructor, taking examinations, and submitting assignments) will fall within the definition of correspondence education rather than distance education. If the online portion of a class meets the definition of correspondence education, then even if the class also meets on site, it will be considered a correspondence education course for Title IV qualification purposes. Correspondence education is not considered distance education within the U.S. Department of Education definition (see question 7, above).

Score: 4/8

The American Samoa Community College has initiated a comprehensive upgrade of its website to improve accessibility, user experience, and transparency of student achievement data. The project is designed to ensure that all stakeholders that include students, parents, faculty, and prospective students - can easily access important information. ASCC aims to complete this upgrade before the Fall 2025 semester. Key areas of focus for the improvement include enhanced access to student data, greater transparency in reporting achievements, and the inclusion of a visual representation of the College's journey and impact through interactive data and storytelling elements on the website.

No

19. Does your college offer Career and Technical Education Programs?

Yes

For the purposes of the Annual Report, Job Placement Rate is defined as the percentage of students who are employed in the year following completion of a CTE (career-technical education) certificate or degree program. (This means that the denominator for the 2022-2023 job placement rate will be the number of students who completed the program in 2021-2022.) Report only those programs with a minimum of 10 students in the completion year. For example, if a program had 9 students complete in 2021-2022, you do not need to report a job placement rate for 2022-2023. Report only those programs for which reliable data are available. If your institution has defined its job placement rate differently than what is described above, you may complete this question using your local definition provided that you describe this definition in Question 20.

Our institution has programs that meet these conditions.

20. Please use this text box to provide any comments or context regarding the data submitted in this report (optional, no word limit).

ASCC continues to review and monitor its Institutional Set Standards (ISS) through a thorough biennial review process, ensuring that all targets and aspirational goals align with the College's mission and strategic objectives. This review process is essential to maintain and enhance the College's commitment to academic excellence and institutional improvement.

Currently, the College is in the final stage of the 2024 biennial review of its Institution-Set Standards. As part of this process, several targets and aspirational goals are being revisited to assess their relevance, effectiveness, and alignment with current institutional priorities. This ensures that the ISS remain reflective of the College's evolving needs, student success outcomes, and broader educational goals. The review also provides an opportunity to make necessary adjustments to enhance the College's continued growth and progress.

In this Annual Report, ACCJC seeks to gain additional insights from our member institutions. Regarding student achievement data, these questions seek to learn more about how colleges are advancing student achievement, challenges faced, and support needed.

21. Reflecting on your Institution's student achievement(s), what efforts/initiatives/competencies have you found to be fundamental in supporting the recent successes you've observed/reported? Please describe any innovations and improvements along with a brief narrative of how it was achieved. (max 200 words)

ASCC has seen a significant increase in the number of Certificates of Proficiency (COPs) awarded, driven by strong and collaborative partnerships established through Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) with local agencies. These partnerships have created valuable opportunities for students to gain specialized skills and credentials that align with the needs of the local workforce. By working closely with these agencies, the College is able to offer tailored programs that enhance student success and better meet community demands. This growth in COP awards reflects the College's ongoing commitment to fostering career-focused education and building meaningful connections between students and industry partners.

22. What professional development can the Commission coordinate to support your Institution in achieving its student success goals within the next three-year cycle? (max 200 words)

The American Samoa Community College (ASCC) does not have any recommendations at this time for professional development. ASCC looks forward to implementing its plans on Student Achievement Standards.
